

MEDIA TRIPS – DIGITAL TRASH AND GARBOLLOGY

A new blog devoted to remix and sampling – Media trips

Here's an entry of theirs from October 20 –

Check out the newly posted projects at the recently launched online exhibition Digital Recycling at The Stunned Net Art Open 2004, where one person's trash is another's treasure trove:

What's more, you can participate by uploading or downloading all kinds of files, images, music, texts. My favorite tagline? The Dump is The Message:

Digitalrecycling aims to build a community of people who use discarded information as their medium. Users may log on to the "digitalrecycling operating system" and either upload or download their own or other peoples' digital trash. "The point is not to deny privacy, but to rethink property."

Thanks to Troels (Myrup) for spotting this one.
