TAKING COLLECTION SERIOUSLY

I am featured in an article about collecting by Mike Antonucci in Stanford Alumni Magazine this month – [Link]

My point – respect the nuances of the collector's passion. (How can I not think of Walter Benjamin's celebration of book collection – "Unpacking my library: a talk about book collecting" – see my recent post about an old edition of Scott [Link])

The changing world of the car collector is, of course, fascinating us in the Revs Program.

Sebastian (Thrun) checks out the marvelous Collier Collection